STEEL OUTPUT
INCREASE SEEN

10 Per Cent Upturn During 1936 Envisioned by Leading Authorities.

Lake Superior Mines in "Most Favorable Position Since 1929"; Boom Expected.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 6.—The magazine Steel predicted today that at least 10 per cent better output for the steel industry in 1936.

It said the Lake Superior iron ore industry was in "the most favorable position since 1929."
"Building of all kinds will snap back to 25 to 30 per cent," the magazine predicted. "Automobile assemblies will increase 10 to 15 per cent."

The tin plate increase seen
Other predictions: Consumption of tin plates for containers will increase 15 per cent; air-conditioning structures will take 33 per cent more steel; export shipping will expand several hundred thousand tons; a 25 to 30 per cent rise in steel requirements for mechanical refrigerators; 10 to 20 per cent heavier purchases for railroad equipment; at least 100-000 tons more steel than last year for underground oil, water and gas lines; a 30 per cent increase in the demand for steel for the manufacture of machinery.

"So runs opinion concerning the 1936 iron and steel market, as the magazine opens," the magazine said.
"Only the passage of time, of course, will determine the country's requirements with exactness."

The publication observed that in iron ore shipments increased consumption outland shipments, mine
stocks were reduced and supplies
at lower lake ports and furnaces
were cut below normal.

UNITED EFFORT ASKED
TO PASS BONUS BILL

House Factions in Harmony
With Patman Block Asked
To Back Veterans' Plan.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—With house bonus factions in complete harmony, 218 members who backed the Patman inflationary cash payment plan were urged today to throw their "whole-hearted and enthusiastic support" to a bill sponsored by leading veterans' organizations.

Advising these members by letter that the steering committee
behind the Patman new money bill had ratified an agreement to push the veterans' measure, Rep. Pat-man, Democrat, Texas, said:

"First get the authorization and next the manner or method of payment," he said. The bill backed by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans would authorize full cash payment without specifying the method of financing.

HOOVER CLAIMS
RELIEF SYSTEM
IS MESSED UP

Says Roosevelt Message
Strives To Create Fear
Among Needy.

BOUND FOR NEW YORK

Points to Horde of Appointees
To Refute Contention of Ideal Government Setup.

By The Associated Press
OGDEN, Utah, Jan. 6.—Herbert
Hoover told the nation today
President Roosevelt's relief administration is "a stupendous mess" and that his latest message to congress strove "to create fear
in those on relief."

The former President issued a caustic analysis of his successor's message here last night as he was en route to New York to attend a directors' meeting.

Mr. Hoover will speak in Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 16 on "Agriculture." It is expected to be his fourth formal address criticizing Rooseveltian policies.

"I'll Will Among Men"
His statement, issued before joining Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., for dinner, asserted the President's Friday night speech
"might have been titled 'war on earth and ill will among men.'"

"It was a good oratorical word picture of proper national objectives and ideals," said a good sample of the political method of accusing everyone as being terribly wicked and corrupt, who objects to the many departures of the new deal from these objectives
and ideals.

"A few samples of the many departures from the ideals stated might be cited. The President said:
'I, the executive, established a new relationship between government and people. They (the terms of that relationship) were an appeal from the clamor of partisan interest to the ideal of public interest.'"

"To the disregard of the non-partisan civil service and the horde of 250,000 appointees seem to leave something lacking in the fruition of this ideal."

"The warning that the 'only thing to fear is fear' has daily practical reminders, as we witnessed for the first time in American history the administrative official using fear to coerce the common man."

"The President implies that prior to the creative era, the unemployed were dependent upon inadequate private charity and that some new unknown wicked person wants to consign them back to such a state. The fact is that they were adequately cared for almost wholly by federal, state and local public funds, but under local administration and responsibility. Having violated the ideal of American government and having in a stupendous mess, a boggy is set up to create fear in those on relief."

Alarmed Over Power
"The most ominous note of all was the President's warning that the power he has assumed would be dangerous in other hands. 'In 24 months,' he says, 'we have built up new instruments of public power. In the hands of the people's government, this power is wholesome and proper. It just happens that the ideal upon which our government was founded and hitherto conducted is that it is dangerous to the people to have any man possess such powers, or to allow any man to thus aspire to personal government instead of a government of laws. The question is, not that these powers, having been created and now in the hands of the good, might be transferred to the hands of the wicked,
if the new deal is not continued,
it is that they never should be,
possession by anybody in these United States.'"

TWO HOGS STOLEN
BY FARM THIEVES

Ambitious thieves invaded John W. Ruth farm, four miles night, killing and hogging two pound dogs almost half a mile in the waiting automobile.

The trail the men took across be followed by blood from the hogs and the tracks of the thieves.

County Sheriff Gene Gable, who investigated the theft, said he went to their search and was successful.

Medicine Show
Man, One of Few

Terre Haute, Ind., Resident

One of the few of the medicine

day at 3:15 a. m. at the City hospital.

Five days ago he was taken ill
in Prospect where he and his company, including his wife and daughter, had been giving nightly shows at the Old Opera House for the last two weeks, and on Friday night was brought to Marion for treatment at the hospital. Before going to Prospect the show was in Toledo for three weeks.

size, according to information gained from those who talked to his family and members of his company.

funeral yesterday, displayed family jewels of unusual interest.

FORECLOSURE ACTIONS
SHOW DECLINE IN 1935

Number Decreases While Sale Price Shows Increase; 125
Tracts Sold Here Last Year.

The year 1935 saw a decrease in the number of foreclosure sales of real estate in Marion county as compared with 1934, and an increase in the average amount of money obtained at sheriff's sales for property sold under the pro-

A study of court records shows
the number of sheriff's sales decreased from 187 in 1934 to 125 in 1935, a drop of 33 per cent.

The average amount paid for property at foreclosure sale last cent more than the average of $2, 895 in 1934.

OHIO ENDS 1935
WITH BALANCE
OF $7,740,934

But Auditor Warns School and Relief Financing May Jeopardize State This Year.

NEEDY BIGGEST PROBLEM

Tracy Says Budget Is Balanced Except for Education and Aid to Jobless.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6.—Ohio ended 1935 with a treasury balance of $7,740,934, but State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy warned that financing of relief and schools might jeopardize the state's financial condition this year.

He released a financial statement today showing that despite an almost $20,000,000 increase in expenditures, the treasury balance rose $2,272,100 from the $5,468,834 left at the end of 1934.

"Ohio is operating on a balanced budget," Tracy said, "except for relief and schools as far as the state treasurer is concerned."

Relief Biggest Problem
"The relief problem is the more difficult of the two, and I don't see that the state is any farther along in solving either than it was a year ago."

The legislature, returning today, attacked a permanent relief program. House leaders have agreed legislatively on a $12,000,000 appropriation, to be supplemented with $3,000,000 from local communities, to finance relief for the next 10 months.

"Taxing districts are mostly bankrupt," Tracy asserted. "If the state shoves the relief burden off to them, there will be no saving to taxpayers."

"If the federal government does not furnish more funds for direct relief, the state will have to find some new taxes."

Gov. Martin L. Davey succeeded in avoiding new taxes in his 1935 program. The legislature revoked existing taxes expiring
Jan. 1.

Schools Need $48,000,000
"School districts," Tracy continued, "will need $48,000,000 from the state under the foundation program. This will be in addition to revenues from local taxes."

"The state hasn't been keeping up with school needs under the program. Allocations from the state and other taxes netted about $7 a pupil last quarter, but that is not up to estimated needs."

The foundation program guarantees schools $67 for each high school pupil and $45 for grade school.

"These needs," Tracy asserted,
"may unbalance Ohio's budget."
The financial statement showed 1935 expenditures from the general fund were $49,240,473, against $29,560,455 in 1934. The increase, the statement said, was "due in part to $13,085,061 expended for aid for the aged pensions, and not to exceed $2,000,000 to cover restoration of pay cuts to state employees."

Receipts Total $64,648,725
Receipts from general revenues totalled $54,439,722 in 1935, against $32,573,774. New sources of general revenue last year, with amounts:
were: sales tax, $14,288,307; in-divided public utility excise tax,

BOTH ISSUES SNARLED

Legislature Not Only Clashes
with Davey but Troubled by Internal Disunion.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6.—A special session of Ohio's 51st general assembly, called Sept. 17 by Gov.
Martin L. Davey "for a few days," returned today from a holiday recess to tackle again two major problems presented in the original call.

Observers predicted these conflicting problems, a permanent relief program and revision of the fiscal appropriations bill, would keep the legislators occupied at least until March.

Assembly in Snarl
An almost unprecedented legislative tangle has resulted from Gov.
Davey's stand on both problems
and bitter factional differences within the assembly. Davey has held out for returning as far as possible the cure of the state's unemployment to the counties and has insisted on maintaining the appropriations bill within $1,000,000 of the sum left after his $3,785,000
votes last June.

An emergency $1,500,000 relief appropriation is expected to last through this month. House leaders have agreed tentatively on a 10-month, $12,000,000 program, to be supplemented with $3,000,000 from counties, to finance relief for the next 15 months.

Although the two houses have been in session for more than three months, each has taken several
"five minute" technical recesses
and left the other working.

SWEEPING DECISION
ENDS BOTH ORIGINAL
AND AMENDED ACTS

Program Declared an "Invasion of States' Rights" and Beyond Federal Power Under "Welfare" Clause.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—In a sweeping decision, the supreme court today ruled the entire AAA program was unconstitutional.

The decision was 6 to 3. Justices Cardozo, Brandeis and Stone dissented.

In an opinion read by Justice Roberts, the original adjustment act was declared to be "an invasion of states'
rights" and beyond federal power under the "general welfare" clause.

Fear Industrial Regulation
If the farm aid legislation were valid, he said, it would be possible for congress "to regulate industry in its most meticulous forms."

Speculation how the presidential campaign would be affected stirred instantly when the news reached the Capitol. Legislators turned away from the business of the moment—examination of the 1936-37 new deal budget—to mull over the possibilities.

Republican determination on farm plank alternatives long had been awaiting the supreme court attitude.

What the new deal would do was awaited eagerly.

Secretary Wallace reserved comment.

It was indicated there would not be any immediately from the administration. Councils of war were called.

Roosevelt Silent, Too
President Roosevelt, learned of the turn but also had nothing to say.

Roberts said the farm plan was
"not in essence voluntary."
"It had a compulsory purpose,"
he declared.

"If the act called only for a voluntary plan it would be no better."

Presumably, the government will seek to find a way to pay approximately $200,000,000 due on contracts still unpaid.

Federal lawyers have indicated belief these can be considered ending governmental obligations. It remains to be worked out, however.

Wallace Unperturbed Watched through a partially open door, Secretary Wallace did not change his expression as he glanced at the, "fateful" maxim, said it aside and continued his discussion with a visitor.

Roberts said, the AAA amendments enacted last August made no difference as congress could not ratify something it did not have the power to do originally.

"Congress might redistribute the entire industrial population if this act were upheld," he said
seriously.

"The United States government could destroy local self government."

As soon as he finished, Justice
Stone read the dissenting opinion.

Ponder Ruling

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Vigilant
dent Roosevelt called Attorney General Cummings and Secretary
Wallace to the White House this afternoon to study the supreme court's decision against the AAA.

Silent on the blow, Mr. Roosevelt made it known that he will have other conferences during the next three or four days before any announcement by him.

Stephen T. Early, a secretary to the President, issued the following statement:

"The President at 2:30 will go into conference with Attorney General Cummings and the secretary of agriculture to begin a preliminary study of the supreme court's decision and the dissenting opinion handed down today in the AAA case."

"It desires to emphasize that it will be a preliminary study because of the general belief that before a final analysis is possible
—there being two opinions, majority and minority, and many other legal points to be considered—there will be three or four subsequent conferences possibly within the next three or four days."

"There will be no public announcement after today's conference and none can be expected until a final analysis of the opinions has been made."

WORK PUSHED ON WPA JOBS

Work Goes Ahead Despite Handicap of Unfavorable Weather.

Except for the handicap presented by the weather, Marion county's 1,000 WPA workers are progressing steadily on a series of projects that include several important municipal improvements. WPA officials this morning said regular progress is being made on such projects as the relaying of brick on South State street and the replacement of stone in two filter beds at the sewage treatment works.

Relaying of bricks also is under way on Cherry street. Other street projects include the paving of mud sections of Jackson, Bradford and Myr. Preparations are being made to start on the extension of North Prospect street along the edge of Lincoln park and Dennison street.

In addition, there are a number of small projects, including the relaying of sidewalks in the residential districts.

The final completion report on the Harding High stadium and athletic field project is being prepared for submission to WPA of five in Mansfield.

The stadium project was begun at the close of the FERA program last July 1, and completed under the WPA setup. O. N. Eason, assistant field engineer for the county and H. J. Feldner, supervising engineer, were in charge of plans for the project.

Approximately 125 men who were employed at the stadium and field at the time of its completion, Dec. 27, have been absorbed in other WPA projects here, officials

5 p.m. is a test of how you feel

"How do I feel... Rotten! why do you ask?"

"Because, you are not yourself!"

It is a simple, too! That tired, run-down, exhausted feeling is due to lack of a sufficiency of those precious red blood cells. Just turn to these oxygen-carrying cells and the whole body gets new life. Food is really turned into energy and strength. You help but feel and look better. S.S.S. Tonic restores deficient red blood cells. It also improves the appetite and digestion. It has been the nation's standby for over 100 years... and unless your case is exceptional it should help you, too. Insist on S.S.S. Tonic in the bottle. It is a telephone-wrapped package. The big 50-cent size is sufficient for a week's treatment. It's more economical.

SECURITY LAW WILL END EMPLOYMENT DISTRESS

Cooperating with U. S. Explained in Second Article of Series

more This law will be one per cent of the employers pay roll during 1936 two per cent in 1937 and three per cent in 1938 and hereafter there is no tax imposed on the employer for unemployment insurance under the federal law.

Since it is the objective of the federal government to encourage every state to place into operation an unemployment insurance law of their own the security act seeks to prevent burdensome assessments on employers. It is provided that the federal tax up to 90 per cent for contributions paid into state unemployment funds.

How It Works
For example an employer with a pay roll of $50,000 is liable for a federal tax of one per cent or $500 in 1936. Assuming that his state tax for unemployment in 1936 is also one per cent he pays the $500 to the state and takes credit of $450 against the federal tax and pays only $50 to the government. His total assessment thus is $550.

Since the federal tax applies to all states regardless of whether the state has enacted an unemployment compensation law every state will wish to enact the necessary legislation to take advantage of the allowable credit.

Certain minimum requirements are laid down by the federal act regarding the eligibility of states to participate in the program. These call for payment of all benefits through public employment offices or other agencies approved by the social security board. Payments of benefits must not commence until contributions are first made under the law. State compensation funds must be deposited in the U. S. treasury and the funds collected for unemployment insurance must be used only for that purpose.

Laws in Nine States
At present, nine states and the District of Columbia have unemployment compensation laws. These include Alabama, California, Washington, New Hampshire, New York, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Oregon and Utah.

The act leaves up to the individual states whether workers must contribute a portion of their wages to make up the fund. Employers in Alabama and Washington must pay one per cent of their wages. Workers in New York, District of Columbia, Utah and Wisconsin will not be assessed. Other states such as California, Massachusetts and New Jersey, which have a state unemployment tax, will increase each year to a maximum of one per cent in 1938.

When workers become unemployed they will not receive any money directly from the federal government. Payments will be made by the state which has discretionary authority to fix the amount of the benefits.

List of Exemptions
The federal act exempts from the pay roll tax all employers of agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, officers and crew of a vessel on the navigable waters of the United States, public employees of the federal state and local, and employees of nonprofit institutions operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to animals or children.

Because of the action of the late Sen. Huey Long of Louisiana in blocking all appropriations for administration of the program, Congress will appropriate $1,000,000 immediately for aiding states in setting up unemployment insurance machinery into motion. This sum will suffice until the end of the present fiscal year. An annual appropriation of $49,000,000 for future administration of state programs is provided by the act.

The next article will discuss in detail the old age benefit provisions of the security act.

WE WHO PROVIDE YOU WITH SPEED ASK

a pledge

AS OHIO'S 1,463,285 CHILDREN GO BACK TO SCHOOL

STOP

THIS week—and next—there will be need for extra caution on your part. The children of Ohio are going back to school—their eyes intent upon the wonderful gifts their companions have to show—their ears strained to catch exciting stories of holiday fun. They won't be on the look-out for danger. Won't you look out for them?

Let each of us who drives a car solemnly raise his or her right hand and repeat this pledge—"I will drive carefully."

As Ohio's largest maker of motor fuel we like to feel that we are adding much to man's pleasure and progress. Yet, we who give you speed can only ask that you keep it within reasonable bounds.

It is your foot upon the throttle. It is your hand upon the wheel.

If a child should suddenly dash across your path, could you stop in time? Could you? . . . Think about it as you drive. Think about it at every cross street, at every traffic signal, at every school zone.

Your pledge to drive carefully is not much to ask—but a lot to give. Every child and grown-up in Ohio will be your debtors.

Gaily Rejoice at Camp as Noel Returns.
AT NELL GIBBS request that of persuading Katherine to go on the mountain trip with me. Then in volume I have and that an unwary game at Fair who was making happy 1 le poses as she mailed her Ted's bear into what would have been unconsciousness had been a worst creature. "Here's your chance to test the thing," she said merrily. "You scored part me out of the door returning in less than a minute with Peter's in tow a wide-eyed I chick plainly eaten with curiosity. I could imagine the perky cry. Come, Rodrick, with no exparations that she had given him.

"Now she said crisply 'well find out things. Go on over to camp and leave this world to Rodrick and to me. We'll make it safe for democracy and babies. What do you think?'"

Rod Agrees
She finished her atrocious phrase with a flashing smile and Rodrick bewildered but plucky, never failing agreement. "But your boots," he said earnestly. Mrs. Gibbs grinned at him—and at me.

"I see," she said "Go along and possess your soul in peace. I obeyed her injunction with alacrily and did not stop even when a "golden wall from Faith told me that the baby had discovered—and retented—the introduction of a stranger into her world. Before I reached the other doorstep how ever Rodrick raised his voice in a "Look! Faith look and the sudden cessation of Faith's cry told me that Nell Gibbs had engi near a coup.

I found Katherine and Dr. Pickney on the doorstep. The physician patently was taking his leave and he waited only for a courteous goodbye to me. I enupled with an assurance that Noel was convalescent almost well before attiding down the winding path to the place where he had left his automobile.

Laud Doctor
"Some medico," Katherine said approvingly looking after him and then she spoke quietly to Williams coming around the corner of the house with some wood. When you have finished in side she said "will you please go over and start a fire in the cabin on the point? See that all the doors and windows are opened also so that the place is thoroughly aired by the time Mr. Verlizen goes over. If you'll make up a bed with fresh linen—I'll give you some when you're ready to go—I shall be grateful.

I'll attend to everything. Williams said as he went past us into the cabin. Katherine looked after him approvingly.

The gingerbread squares call for freshly grated coconut, and if you spread the coconut on the uncut gingerbread and serve the whole piece on a little tray, cutting it at the buffet, the informal buffet suggestion is emphasized. Here is the recipe:

AIDS FOR CLUB AND CHURCH LUNCHEONS

Here is a brief table of quantity measurements for club and church luncheons. Cut this out and file away for reference when you will be asked to help prepare such a supper.

Bread and butter: A one pound sandwich loaf, spread with one half pound creamed butter makes sandwiches for sixteen to eighteen.

Salad dressings: One pint of French dressing serves sixteen to twenty salads; mayonnaise or cooked dressing, one pint serves twenty to thirty salads.

Fruit cocktail, or fruit cup: Three quarts makes twenty-four to thirty-six servings.

Salads: Salads are served as either main course or side course. If main course, there must be four and a half quarts to serve twenty-four people, allowing three fourths of a cup of the mixture for each serving; and four and a half quarts of a salad which is to be a side course, allowing one half cup to a serving, and providing enough with this quantity for thirty-six salads.

Tea: Three eighths cup dry tea with four and half quarts boiling water, for serving twenty-four.

Coffee: Two cups coffee with one gallon water, serves twenty-four.

Fruit punch: One quart, in small punch glasses, serves eight to twelve.

Menu for Luncheon

Stuffed Celery Appetizer
French Fried Chicken
New Potato Souffle Potatoes
Rolls and Butter
Panana Fruit
Tea or Coffee

To make French fried chicken, select young chickens weighing not more than a pound and a half. Clean and cut in quarters and wash and dry each piece thoroughly. Sprinkle with salt and pepper inside and out. Dip pieces in beaten egg then into flour which is mixed with one teaspoon of baking powder for each four tablespoons of flour. Fry in deep hot fat, 345 degrees Fahrenheit, for eight to ten minutes. Or dip in fritter batter and fry at the same temperature, for about the same time. The pieces should be delicately browned. Dry on layers of clean paper toweling laid on a dripping pan—set in the oven, so the chicken does not chill.

Bridge Supper

Tomato Relish on Toast
Ripe Olives, Carlet, Green Olives
Hot Biscuits
Cold Punch
Frozen Pudding, Cookies

To make the frozen pudding use one large mold, and unmold the pudding on a decorative platter to be served at the table.

Frozen Pudding: Three cups milk; three eggs; one cup sugar; one tablespoon cornstarch; one cup chopped mixed fruits and nuts. Scald milk; mix cornstarch and sugar, add beaten eggs and a few grains of salt. Mix well again and add scalded milk slowly. Cook in double boiler for five minutes. Cool, add fruit, which has been put through the food chopper. A spoon combination is two tablespoons seedless raisins, one tablespoon each chopped date, chopped candied cherries, blanched almonds and candied pineapple. Mix well, freeze in the automatic refrigerator, but not too stiff. Then put in a fancy mold, and pack in ice and salt for an hour or longer. Turn out on a platter. Slice and serve.

In place of plain hot biscuits, small biscuit sandwiches may be served. Spread the split, hot biscuits with butter and quickly lay strips of anchovy across each half. Close. Spread others with ham salad mixture or any chicken, fish or meat salad combination. If the supper is served at the buffet, have a bowl of the sandwich spread and spreaders on a tray with a tray of hot biscuits fresh from the oven, at hand. One guest may spread the biscuits for the others. These are delicious and much appreciated.

HANDICAPPED LOVERS

Any "goldfish" leads a more secluded life and has more secrets than a popular lover of the screen or radio.

Somebody is always planning a new romance, a new heart-interest on one of them—Gable, or Barrymore or Vallee. Some enterprising young woman is always either suing or pursuing one of them. It's really a wonder that they don't desert and run off to some South Sea island, where they can get in a little private practice in their art, between pictures.

No man can play the role of a Romeo, convincingly, unless he keeps in practice. It isn't like playing the part of a gangster or a G-man, which can be created from imagination or hearsay. Because most of us have never seen a gangster or a G-man in his working-hours and can't question the actor's version.

But nearly every woman has been made love to, and she has a perfectly clear mental picture of the ideal lover. In fact, nearly every woman is born a connoisseur in the art of love-making, and only a skilled artist can measure up to her ideals.

The screen lover, who has no personal romantic experiences to inspire him, is apt to be as clumsy as the pianist who neglects to practice his scales or the prizefighter who doesn't keep in training.

But what can the poor man do about it, when he scarcely dares to be pleasant to a good-looking girl or to cultivate a speaking acquaintance with her Pomeranian, for fear that he will see himself pictured, a few days later, as "somebody's darling," in all the rotogravure sections? No amount of publicity could repay any man for the suffering he endures at the thought of being made to look "foolish" or "susceptible."

Every man is shy about his love-affairs and his emotions. Unlike a woman, he seldom bore with a gift or an instinct for love-making. As a result, he is scornfully quiet; and the woman who tries to kiss him, later, he grows up and fights off the woman who tries to marry him. Love is no part of the game, which a young man keeps out as his life-story.

It is not until he has been in love several times and had plenty of practice that he becomes a fairly skilled love-maker. Sometimes, it is not until he is in his Indian summer. And sometimes it is never.

Every man has his own way of making love. Some are born with the gift, some are made. Some are made by the woman who tries to kiss him, later, he grows up and fights off the woman who tries to marry him. Love is no part of the game, which a young man keeps out as his life-story.

NEVER MIND THE LADY

by David Garth

(Copyright, 1935, by David Garth)

SENORITA Allaire West, proud, unattainable, but at last succumbed to her love for Terry Willett, she even begged him not to return to his South American job, but to stay in New York with her. And he has refused. Allaire has killed the time since Terry left with George Fox, who is slated to be married at the court of St. James. Now, at the home show, Fox is asking Allaire to marry him, and Allaire is confessing that she does not believe she ever will be able to forget Terry.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

Breakup
"Oh, darling," said Allaire. Her voice seemed to catch. "Oh, darling," she began again, "Don't you think I've thought of this? I'll marry you—if you want me to, only—"

"What?" said Fox. "Only what?"

"Only, George darling, I don't think I'll ever get over that fighting engineer's terror. I've tried to, heaven knows I have. But there was a far-away look in her eyes, 'somehow the note still rings.'"

He thought of that thin gold cigarette case with the vanity mirror set in platinum on the cover, and the detectives demanding to see the girl behind the door in Willett's hotel room. Maybe that ringing note would be stifled if Allaire knew about that.

Her pride had lowered its colors once, but this Fox was suddenly convinced that if she knew about this, she would get over the memory of that striding son of the engineering empire. And she deserved to know her future and his was at stake. She couldn't go on like this.

He was silent so long that the girl looked at him anxiously. "Don't hate me, George, I couldn't stand it."

"Good Lord, Allaire, why should I hate you because you can't forget Terry Willett? But—"

"That's the second time you've said 'but.'"

"Did I?" said Fox. Well, I forgot what I was going to say. He smiled grimly. "It couldn't have been important."

They decided to drive back to Westlands and Allaire went to change from her riding clothes. Fox waited for her on the veranda.

Quite a few of the show crowd adjourned to Westlands that afternoon, a tide of people eddying around tables on terrace and lawn, swirling through the house; buckgammon and bridge going full blast, buffet tea and hors d'oeuvres served both on the lawn and in the taproom, cocktails being shaken in a dozen places.

Fox was absorbed by a heavy of girls and departed with a half-hearted grin. Allaire looked after him a moment and then went into Ray's private study. Ray was conferring with Blythe, the major-domo of the household, on plans for the evening. He dismissed the butler as she came in.

"Come on, baby," he said, "get tided up. You may have a tremendous board to preside over tonight."

"Ray," she said idly, "what would you say if I told you I was going away?"

"Going away? Where?"

"South America."

He stared, astounded.

"What the devil do you want to go there for? I thought George was taking up his duties in London. Has he been shifted back?"

"No, he's still London-bound."

"Then what?" He stopped and regarded her suspiciously. "Don't tell me you've called it no dice with him too."

"We both called it no dice. Only decent thing to do."

"And when did this South American idea pop up?"

She shrugged.

"It's been in my mind for a long time, only I couldn't quite bring myself to it before. But I've felt like a person with one arm ever since he left, sort of lonely and uncertain and there's no use trying to kid myself any longer. I should have gone after him a long time ago, but nothing is going to stop now."

"You're talking about Willett, of course?"

She nodded.

"Of course."

Ray started to smile. And that little smile faded while he lit a cigarette and leaned back, viewing her emotionally through a cloud of smoke.

"Allaire," he said, "I've tried to warn you. You're heading for fog. You don't know anything about Willett."

"I know enough."

He threw back his handsome head and laughed.

"Allaire, the unattainable. Utterly by scandal, possessed of the pride and Meade of a goddess."

She started to rise. He ordered quickly.

"Wait a minute," he said. "I owe this much to you. To both you and George before I go. You and I have opened a drawer of mine and look out several treasured sheets, clipped letters, 'Dear' read a detective agency's report. Very detailed. About a woman named Terry Willett. This is the report. It's a search for you when you were putting his business a look at a woman named Terry Willett."

She looked at him. "What?"

St. Mary Wins, 19 to 9, from Upper Sandusky Quintet

VICTORY AT SHOVEL GYM IS THIRD FOR PAROCHIAL CAGERS

Schuler Takes Scoring Honors with Six Points; Substitutes Make Good Showing.

Clever defensive work of St. Mary High's basketball team gave the Irish squad a 19 to 9 victory over Upper Sandusky High in a game played at the Shovel gymnasium, Saturday night.

The St. Mary team took the initial lead and relinquished it only momentarily as Upper Sandusky staged a brief rally, to lead at the half by a 6 to 5 score.

A display of power and ability early in the second half gave the Irish team a 11 to 5 lead at the end of the third period. In the final stanza the winning squad tallied eight points to one for Upper Sandusky and finished with a 10-point victory lead.

Third Win of Season
The victory was the third of the season for St. Mary High. All were scored on the home court. In six games the parochial school has a record of 500 per cent, losing in three contests on foreign courts.

St. Mary fans displayed keen enthusiasm during the contest and organized cheering sections, composed of students, supported the team. A group of Upper Sandusky students and followers were present.

Schuler, regular forward of the Kelly-coached Marion team, copied scoring honors with two fielders and two free throws. Field, his running mate at the forward position, scored two baskets and one foul shot. Especially commendable was the fine playing of two substitute players of the competing teams.

Feldner, fast moving substitute forward of the parochial team, displayed good form in scoring two field goals during the time he was in the game. His work, both offensively and defensively, should give Coach Kelly hope for a future star.

Sub Is High Scorer
"Tubby" Railing, Upper Sandusky's diminutive substitute, entered the game at a guard position and managed to connect on two shots from foul line. He led his team in scoring honors and harassed the Irish guards by his neat faking and fast footwork. Handicapped by his size, Railing overcame that disadvantage by his accuracy on shots from almost any position on the floor.

Two games are on schedule for St. Mary this week-end. Saturday night the team will meet Adelphi in a home game and on Sunday afternoon the squad will journey to Fostoria for a return game with St. Wendell. In a previous game with St. Wendell on the home court, St. Mary was victorious, 31 to 23.

MASKED TERROR AND SAUER TO WRESTLE

Ticket Sale Indicates Interest in Match Tonight at Shovel Gym.

Evidence of Marion wrestling fans' interest in the return match of George Sauer and The Masked Terror is shown in the unusually large ticket sale for tonight's program.

Last week the wrestlers performed before a capacity crowd, and today indications are that even a larger crowd will be present tonight to see the featured encounter.

The match, which is one of two main bouts, will be over the usual 60-minute period with two falls to win. In the other main go attraction Jack Donner of Toledo will tangle with Johnnie Stott of Schenectady, N. Y. Both men have been on the Shovel wrestling program on numerous occasions and are well known to fans here.

The card includes a 20-minute preliminary round to begin at 8:30 p. m.

UNDEFEATED S. S. TEAMS TO COMPETE

Forest Lawn and Trinity Baptist Squads To Play.

The Senior Sunday school basketball league will resume competition after a two-weeks rest over the holidays. Interest in the league is on the upswing as scheduled games for Tuesday night present what may be a championship encounter.

Forest Lawn, runners-up in the league last year, will meet the Trinity Baptist squad in the final game on Tuesday's program. The Trinity Baptist squad copied the championship last season and will enter the game this week with a stronger line-up than they boasted last year.

The teams are knotted for first place in the league standings, both undefeated this season. Maynard Snyder, star pivot man for the Forest Lawn team, is expected to participate in the game this week. Snyder, who has been working night was previously unable to play with the team.

The cage program for the evening will begin at 7 p. m. when the United Brethren and Epworth teams play. The second game will begin at 7:45 and will bring together the First Reformed and Salem squads. The seventh team in the league, composed of the Lutheran Sunday school players will be idle this week.

Change Deadline for Entry in Golden Gloves Tourney

Registration deadline for entry in the Golden Gloves boxing tournament to be held in Marion late this month has been moved ahead to Monday, Jan. 20, according to an announcement made this morning by Hugh Wright, chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

The tournament, under the sponsorship of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce, has attracted widespread interest among amateur boxers and the closing of registration has been moved ahead to permit last-minute entries to come under the wire.

"ARKY" VAUGHAN CHAMPION HITTER

LEADING the parade of major league hitters is a young man whose sudden rise to batting glory was one of the most spectacular developments of 1935. Floyd "Arky" Vaughan, 25-year-old Pittsburgh swatter, really outclassed the other big league batters last year, winning the hitting laurels with a margin of 32 points over his nearest rival.

Vaughan punched out an average of .385, the best mark chalked up by any clouter since the lively ball was taken out of circulation several years ago.

The Pirate wallower, hailed as a second Honus Wagner by Smoky City fandom, has a highly individual batting style. Like many great hitters, he is a most unorthodox batter. Al Simmons and Lefty O'Doul, to mention a couple of former batting kings, both had peculiar hitting styles, and Vaughan, too, doesn't swing according to any baseball lingo.

Arky's batting form resembles the hitting technique of a golfer rather than a ball player, for he pivots and bends his right knee inward like a man driving off a tee, instead of taking a stride as he swings, like the usual batter.

The 1935 hitting king employs a very open stance, which is to say that he stands with his feet wide apart and faces the pitcher at a three-quarter angle.

Last year was the first time in his five seasons of big league campaigning that Vaughan was a real contender for the batting title. Baseball fans are wondering if his 1935 hitting spurge was just a flash in the pan.

ARROW TEAM AHEAD IN Y. M. C. A. LEAGUE

Second Position Held by Olympian Squad as Result of Saturday Game.

The Arrow Torch club took the lead in the Saturday afternoon leagues held at the Y. M. C. A., remaining undefeated, by scoring a 16 to 13 victory over the Olympian team. The Olympian team, unbeaten until it met the sharp shooting Arrow squad, dropped into second place in loop competition.

The winning team held a lead from start to finish but the Olympians threatened often during the game. The Olympians held their opponents scoreless during the third quarter and came within a point of deadlocklocking the score at the period ended with the Arrow club leading 13 to 12.

Smith was high scorer for the Arrows with six points while honors on the losing team were evenly divided. In other Torch-Y games the K-Y seniors ran rough shod over the Erusions to win 35 to 6. Fletcher scored 14 points for the winners. The K-Y Juniors won the third game of the afternoon by defeating the Norseman, 21 to 5. The final game saw a fighting B-Square team go down to defeat by an 18 to 7 score at the hands of the Casic club.
